Citizens for Brentwood Greenspace Adds Fordice To Board of Directors

BRENTWOOD, TN – June 6, 2011 – The Citizens for Brentwood Green Space (CBGS), a volunteer citizens group dedicated to preserving open space in Brentwood, announced today the addition of Jim Fordice, M.D. to its Board of Directors.

Born and raised in Vicksburg, Mississippi, Fordice earned his biomedical engineering degree at Duke University in 1987. He earned his M.D. at Baylor College of Medicine In Houston, TX, then completed residency there. While training in Houston, he met his wife and fellow doctor, Sarina. They moved to Nashville in 1998, and to Brentwood in 2002, where they are raising two children, ages 15 and 11.

"Jim brings a real passion for the preservation of green space, particularly when it comes to making our community a more "walkable community" in the future. We're honored to have him join our Board," said President Gil Hutchinson.

Fordice previously served for nine years on the state board of the Nature Conservancy. He is an Otolaryngologist currently practicing in Smyrna and Murfreesboro, TN.

About Citizens for Brentwood Green Space

The Citizens for Brentwood Green Space, Inc. is a volunteer citizens group organized as a 501(c) (3) nonprofit corporation. Our mission is to preserve open space in the form of parks, trails, historic sites, and flood plains while being sensitive to the rights of landowners and developers. We desire to assure that ongoing development of land resources is accomplished in a way that is beneficial to landowners, to existing citizens of the city and to future generations of Brentwood residents.
